150 Reasons to Celebrate

2017 Annual Report of Giving
Dear Friends,

2017 was a year of celebration at St. Paul’s as we commemorated our 150th anniversary. In addition to longevity as an organization, you’ve given us many other reasons to celebrate, hence the theme of this year’s annual donor report - “150 Reasons to Celebrate.”

There are actually many more reasons than that - 510 employees, 615 residents and clients, and 248 volunteers just to name a few. Each brings something special to St. Paul’s. Each is a part of our family. Many play a part in our past, present and future.

This could not be truer than when talking about our donors - all 953 from last year. You make the dreams become reality, like you did with the Raise the Roof campaign. Your generosity toward projects and initiatives enhances the lives of the residents at St. Paul’s. For those who support benevolent and unfunded care, you give residents and their family members peace of mind, which is priceless. They know when they come to St. Paul’s they’ll never have to leave if they run out of financial resources. They will continue to receive the same exceptional care.

Speaking of care, another reason to celebrate at St. Paul’s is the amazing, caring culture that continues to thrive here. It’s called the Eden Alternative, but that’s not as important as what happens within our walls.

Every day our care partners work to create a meaningful life for our elders regardless of their age or state of health. I hear countless stories about the lengths they go to make this happen. I am so proud of our staff and how much they care about the residents and each other.

Often working hand in hand with our staff are volunteers, who selflessly give their time, talent and treasure day after day. They are the extra set of hands, the smile, the hug that makes life at St. Paul’s even better. Without them, our mission wouldn’t be possible.

Regardless of your role, whether you are a resident, family member, volunteer, donor, employee or community partner, you are one of the reasons we celebrated 150 years in 2017 and for that we are so grateful. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Chris Wright

WHAT IS BENEVOLENT AND UNFUNDED CARE? This is provided to residents who have exhausted their financial resources and cannot afford the full cost of their care. Last year, St. Paul’s provided $5.2 million in benevolent and unfunded care.
There are lots of reasons to celebrate when you’ve been around 150 years. We asked three of our reasons - our wonderful residents, dedicated staff and energetic volunteers - what they thought. Here are their answers:

“St. Paul’s has many reasons to celebrate. They go above and beyond the call of duty. They make things so nice for the residents. I get up in the morning and say, ‘Another day in paradise!’ The staff put their whole heart and soul into everything they do. I love it here! I’m as happy as a clam.”

- Kathy Martorelli, Heritage Resident and Volunteer. (Pictured with IT Specialist Erica Gulentz)

“I recently joined the board of directors at St. Paul’s, and I think the extraordinary mix of talents and expertise serving on the board provides stability, vision and dedication and is a reason to celebrate.”

- Jeff Blair, Board Member and President of Greenville Savings Bank

“Love and compassion for everyone are the two biggest reasons St. Paul’s has lasted 150 years.”

- Dianna Mills, Life Enrichment Specialist. (Pictured with Villas resident Gloria Bardella)
“Because of the incredible contributions of its volunteers, St. Paul’s has many reasons to celebrate - in 2017 these individuals provided 20,106 hours to the residents and supported the many services, programs and special events to enhance the quality of life. Many volunteers support the fundraising efforts of the Auxiliary of St. Paul’s. Since its inception, the Auxiliary has raised more than $500,000. The volunteers and Auxiliary are an integral part of the St. Paul’s culture and contribute greatly to the richness of life of the residents. Every day I have a reason to celebrate because I am so proud to be an active participant in the lives of the residents at St. Paul’s, both as a volunteer as well as an involved member of the Auxiliary.

- Mary Ellen Bayuk, Colony Resident, Volunteer, Board Member and Auxiliary Board Member

“Everyone is treated as family regardless if you are an employee, resident or family of a resident. The residents like hearing about our past and future just as much as we value what they did in past lives and what is currently happening in their new life here with us.”

- Cathy Boyer, Registered Dietetic Technician

“St. Paul’s can celebrate the fact that Colony residents like us can enjoy the comfortable lifestyle, the friendly atmosphere, the volunteer opportunities, the many activities and camaraderie, worship opportunities, and knowing that continuing care is available to us at St. Paul’s in the years ahead.”

- John and Helen Nichols, Colony Residents and Volunteers
In April 2017, St. Paul’s kicked off a campaign to raise $500,000 to build porticos outside the main entrances of The Villas, The Ridgewood and The Heritage. Upon completion, visitors and staff will be able to drive up to the entrance under cover providing protection from inclement weather.

You embraced this project and pronounced it a critical need for the family at St. Paul’s. Thanks to you and more than 400 other donors, the three year campaign was concluded successfully in less than a year. Construction began in the spring of 2018 with completion by late summer. Now that’s a reason to celebrate!
Thank you to the following generous donors who made an outright donation or a pledge for the Raise the Roof campaign! Each donor is recognized at the level of the total funds committed for the campaign. Donors at the $2,500 level and above will be recognized on a donor recognition plaque at the portico location of their choice.

The staff at St. Paul's were instrumental in the success of the Raise the Roof campaign. In May 2017, a dedicated committee of 17 staff members from different departments and buildings formed to work on the staff campaign. They set an ambitious goal to raise $50,000.

“We do things rain or shine. Residents get soaked. I’ve gotten soaked. The porticos will be really nice to have,” said committee member and Villas Life Enrichment Specialist Sue McConnell.

Fellow committee member and Ridgewood Administrative Assistant Katie Forcier echoed the sentiment, “I think the portico is a great idea! It will be wonderful for the residents. It will protect residents going out with family, because it takes them longer to get in and out of cars.”

The committee came up with several innovative ideas to solicit the staff to give. Through one-on-one asks, Raise the Roof t-shirt sales, special Jeans Days, a Fitbit drawing and other events, the committee was able to raise more than $58,000. Amazing! A total of 160 employees gave. That’s a reason to celebrate!

Thank you to everyone who gave and especially to these dynamite 17 who served on the committee.

Raise the Roof donor George Donner with his mother Marion Donner, a resident at The Heritage

“The care received is excellent. It is a relief to my brother and I to know that Mom is at St Paul’s and that she is happy and well cared for. I think the construction of porticos is a needed and worthwhile project. They will provide protection from inclement weather for all visitors and residents. They will allow for better footing during snow and icy conditions.”
Match Made in Heaven

It was a match made in heaven when Dick Jones met his future wife Patti. They had a few things in common already. Both were Penn State graduates, Dick with a degree in mathematics and Patti with a degree in social work. Though they had never met at school, they had a mutual friend who was Patti’s roommate in Norristown, PA after graduation.

That friend made it her personal mission to get the two of them together, convinced they would be the perfect match. Turns out she was right. This year the Joneses will celebrate their 49th wedding anniversary.

“When we met, I knew it was a God-ordained union.” said Dick. “One because Patti was wearing the ugliest dress I had ever seen, and two, after dinner, we went dancing, which I’m terrible at.” He breaks into a laugh. “If neither one of those things dissuaded us, we were meant for each other.”

He gets a sparkle in his eye as he recounts memories of their life together.

The last few years have been very hard for Dick and for Patti. In 2014 at the age of 68, Patti was diagnosed with Alzheimer’s Disease, which was later amended to frontotemporal dementia. In February 2017, she moved into Jones Serenity Circle, so named for the same Jones family.

Patti and Dick made the lead gift for the creation of Jones Serenity Circle in June 2015 in memory of his parents Helen and Cecil ‘Buck’ Jones. Helen was a resident at St. Paul’s for ten years prior to her passing in 2005. Little did they expect when they made the gift that Patti would need to move in a few years later.

Dick grew up in Ridgway, PA and was familiar with St. Paul’s when it was an orphanage. “Our church in Ridgway would send offerings to it around Thanksgiving, which we would often deliver as a family,” said Dick. “Patti knew how much St. Paul’s meant to me, and it became the same for her. St. Paul’s has always been a loving and caring place for us.”

In 2017, when Dick heard about the Raise the Roof campaign to construct porticos outside the main entrance of The Heritage, The Villas and The Ridgewood, he knew he wanted to get involved.

One value he and Patti shared throughout their marriage was the importance of philanthropy, paired with their love for St. Paul’s.

It didn’t take long to decide he wanted to make the $150,000 lead gift to name The Heritage portico in honor of the love of his life.

“Patti would probably be embarrassed, but proud to have the portico named in her honor,” said Dick. “I think she would be very happy.”

Patti enjoyed the simple life with Dick. They spent many evenings at home, doing puzzles together – syllacrostic was their favorite – and watching mystery movies.

They genuinely enjoyed each other’s company and shared similar views on politics, finances, religion and life. They had one child together, a daughter Melissa. “She was our miracle baby,” said Dick. Due to health issues, it should have been impossible for Patti to have a baby. God decided otherwise.

Patti lost her own mother when she was just seven years old, followed by her father at the age of 10. She and her siblings were raised by their grandparents in the small town of Galeton in northcentral Pennsylvania.

Because of losing her parents at such a young age, Patti was determined to be there for Melissa. She stayed at home with her until school age and then got a job as an assistant at Melissa’s preschool.

That led to a nearly 28 year career in teaching in Florida. “It was definitely her niche,” said Dick. “The kids loved her, the school, the parents. Everyone wanted to be in Mrs. Jones’ class.”

Early in their marriage, the Joneses moved frequently due to Dick’s career in computer technology. It was a growing industry, rife with company failures and colossal successes. After living in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Virginia and Texas, Dick found his success in Florida.

He and two friends opened a small software company in Florida called Transaction Data Systems in 1977. First they focused on developing software for airline reservation systems and automated banking systems. For several years it was touch and go. Then they shifted their focus to software for independent pharmacies, which became the Rx30 system, and their business took off.

Patti was always very supportive of Dick’s career and also shared his love for rural Pennsylvania. They built a summer home in St. Marys in 2005, where they relocated permanently in 2016.

Unfortunately Patti wasn’t there long before needing to move to St. Paul’s. Dick misses his best friend and visits her often, even though she is no longer able to communicate. Their friends at Shiloh Presbyterian Church in St. Marys, the supportive staff at St. Paul’s and his faith are what carry him through.

It wasn’t how he intended his and Patti’s retirement years to be. Still Dick chooses to use his blessings to help make her home at St. Paul’s even better - for the residents today and far into the future.

A Chance to Give Back

Colony residents Jerry and Judy Hodge became the newest members of St. Paul’s Legacy Society in fall 2017 when they named St. Paul’s as a beneficiary of the Hodge Family Fund.

The Hodges set up the fund at the Community Foundation of Western PA and Eastern OH a few years ago.

The Hodge name is well-known in Mercer County. Jerry retired as President of the Hodge Foundry in 1994 after 44 years at the family business. British immigrant E.W. Hodge started the company in 1876 to create brass bearing castings for the railroad. Today the Hodge Foundry creates some of the largest, most complex engineering castings in the world.

The foundry enjoyed a lot of success operating from their base in Greenville over the years. “Our thinking in starting the fund was that we wanted to leave something to benefit the community,” said Jerry. “Because the community has done a lot for us over the years, and it’s a way of giving back.”

The Hodges designated several local organizations to benefit from the fund after their passing, including their church, First Presbyterian in Greenville, and St. Paul’s.

“We chose organizations that at one time or other in our lives were important to us, and we want to see them continue,” said Judy.

The Hodges’ connection to St. Paul’s started long before they moved in to The Colony. Jerry’s mother, uncle and aunt all lived there at one point. His mother Ruth Hodge was one of the early residents of what was then called Cottage Colony, when she moved in 1979.

In 2005, Ruth’s brother-in-law Tom and wife Jean followed suit. Ruth eventually moved to The Ridgewood where she passed away in 2011. Jean still lives at The Colony, though Tom has since passed away.

In 2014, Jerry and Judy were living in their home on Pymatuning Lake when they started thinking about the future. Judy had recently come home from a hospitalization, and it had been two very hard winters in a row. They were taking care of a large home and three acres of land. “It reached a point where we felt we needed to plan ahead for the future,” said Jerry. “We asked ourselves if something happened to one of us, did the other really want to live in that house alone with all that to take care of? The answer was no.”

One afternoon after the Kiwanis Club meeting on St. Paul’s campus, Jerry decided to drive through The Colony. He came upon a house under construction and liked the looks of it. Before long, that new house was theirs, and they moved in June 2015.

“It’s a great place to live!” said Jerry. The Hodges can now go south in the winter without worrying about their home. When something needs fixed, they put in a work order, and someone comes and does it. “That relieves a lot of stress,” said Jerry.

As they settled in and began enjoying life at The Colony, they started thinking about giving back to the organization making it possible. “With this fund, we felt even after we are gone we can continue to funnel funding to St. Paul’s to help with whatever is needed,” said Judy.

There is no minimum gift required. Simply let the Charitable Giving Office know that you’ve included St. Paul’s in an estate plan. For more information, please contact VP of Charitable Giving Diane O’Brien at 724-588-9613 ext. 1237 or dobrien@sp1867.org.
Leaving a Gift in Your Will

If you would like to support St. Paul’s mission with an estate gift, it’s easy to do. Simply add this language to your will:

I give and devise to St. Paul Homes (Tax ID# 25-0773080), located in Greenville, PA, the sum of $____ (or ____% of my estate) to be used for its general support (or for the support of a specific fund, program or purpose).

Another way you could include St. Paul’s in your will is with a residuary gift. This means that after all debts, bills and taxes are paid, and all other designated gifts are distributed, whatever remains would go to St. Paul’s.

What would happen if the beneficiary of your estate would be deceased at the time of your passing? You could name St. Paul’s as a contingent beneficiary to receive your estate instead.

For more information about estate gifts, please talk to your attorney or contact VP of Charitable Giving Diane O’Brien at 724-588-7610 ext. 1237.

If you’re going to Live, leave a Legacy.
