Transforming Lives

2018 Annual Report of Giving
A Message from the President-CEO

Dear Friends,

St. Paul’s charitable mission is to provide meaning, richness of life, health care, and other support services, while maintaining and enhancing the dignity of human life. When we do these things, we play a part in transforming lives.

St. Paul’s strives to help transform an individual’s life into just what they need. If someone is weighed down taking care of their own home and property, St. Paul’s can transform their anxiety to peace in the vibrant, worry-free independent living community at The Colony. When a person is down and out after surgery, St. Paul’s can transform their recovery with rehab at The Villas. When someone needs a little extra help at home to be safe and healthy, St. Paul’s can transform their home with the helping hands of Without Walls care partners.

Our mission is all about transforming lives for the better. We would not be able to do that without the help of our many donors - all 1,085 who opened their hearts and gave in 2018. Thank you for your support!

Imagine what it would be like to be in your 80’s or 90’s and unable to pay for the care you need. When you give to support benevolent and unfunded care, you are giving those residents and their family members peace of mind and quality care, for as long as they need it. Think about how that changes their lives!

Another way you impact lives at St. Paul’s is when you give to the Eden Alternative. This is the philosophy of care that our culture is built upon. It’s all about alleviating loneliness, helplessness and boredom and helping residents live a meaningful life. Your gifts support a variety of things like special outings, pizza parties and music therapy. We all know the power of fun, food and music!

You will find many examples throughout this donor report of how you are helping St. Paul’s to transform lives. We are so grateful to all our donors, volunteers and dedicated, caring employees for standing right beside us, day in and day out, doing the hard work and making our mission possible.

We hope you enjoy reading the 2018 Annual Donor Report!

In gratitude,
Chris Wright
President and CEO

To transform is to make a marked change from one state to another. One of the most well-known examples of transformation in nature is the metamorphosis of a caterpillar to a butterfly. Over the years, we have witnessed remarkable changes in people’s lives at St. Paul’s. We asked a few of our residents, staff and volunteers to share how St. Paul’s has changed their lives. Here are their answers:

“I have been at St. Paul’s for almost half my life. About 21 years ago, I started as an RN floor nurse working all shifts. I transitioned from supervisor to unit manager and then to assistant director of nursing. I am now currently the RN Staff Education Coordinator. St. Paul’s has always believed in me and given me the confidence that I didn’t have for myself. St. Paul’s is my second family and a part of who I am. They have given me the opportunity to learn and grow and I am thankful for that.”
- Teresa Heckman, Staff Education Coordinator

“My perspective has changed since becoming more involved with the mission of St. Paul’s through serving on the board of directors. The community is so compassionate and generous in supporting the mission of St. Paul’s. They help to ensure that all residents who call St. Paul’s home are able to live a meaningful life.”
- David Reeves, Board Member and President of Reeves Information Technology, Inc.

“Since beginning my career at St. Paul’s I have learned what security means. Not only did the support of residents and coworkers provide me with the extra courage I needed to raise my family as a single parent, but the vocational variety I was offered through the many positions I have held gave me a kind of self-confidence second to none. It has given me the foundation on which to build my life.”
- Tammy McConnell, Villas Administrative Assistant

I transitioned from supervisor to unit manager and then to assistant director of nursing. I am now currently the RN Staff Education Coordinator. - Teresa Heckman, Staff Education Coordinator

“St. Paul’s has changed my life tremendously. I couldn’t ask for anything better. I like the leisure of being able to come and go as I please. They supply my meals three times a day and provide all kinds of entertainment. I love playing cards and go to exercise class here every day but Sunday. Since I’ve been going to exercise, I’ve noticed a big difference in my flexibility.”
- Hugh McRight, Heritage Resident

“St. Paul’s has given me security for future living and health needs in a pleasant, comfortable home and setting, on a lovely campus and among many good friends. Medical care, if needed, is a big plus; and my family, since they are all located out of town, are happy that I am comfortable and well adjusted in a safe place and small town. I am happy that St. Paul’s gives you opportunities to use the talents that you have in many wonderful ways and yet respects your independent living. I am sure all of this has added many pleasant years to my life for which I am thankful.”
- Janet Walther, Colony Resident and Volunteer

A Servant’s Heart

Betty Lou Artman of Greenville, Pa., lived out her 95 years on this earth with a servant’s heart. It’s impossible to know how many lives she touched through more than 45 years as an educator and her ardent volunteer work with several community organizations. There’s no doubt she had a passion for serving others and helping them grow and achieve.

This was a legacy that she wanted to continue even after her passing, which is why she made sure her estate planning included the three very important entities in her life – her home St. Paul’s, her church Zion’s Reformed United Church of Christ and her passion for education.

“B. Lou was such a caring person,” said her sister Pat Brooks, who resides at The Heritage. “She was always looking out for the other person. She was very focused on her career and on giving to others.”

The sisters’ connection to St. Paul’s went back to childhood. They would stay with their aunt and uncle every summer, who worked on the farm at St. Paul’s. Over the years teaching Sunday school at Zion’s, B. Lou had several orphans from St. Paul’s in her classes. The sisters were also involved in Zion’s ministry work at St. Paul’s, which is historically affiliated with the United Church of Christ.

“We were as different as night and day,” said Pat, who was three years younger than B. Lou. “But we talked every day.”

Betty Lou Artman as a board member at St. Paul’s

B. Lou earned her bachelor’s degree in history from Thiel College and began a life of service in the education field, accepting a teaching position at Hickory High School in Hermitage, Pa. B. Lou served the Hermitage School District for 45 years in various roles, including teacher, guidance counselor, psychologist, and director of pupil and personnel services.

Betty Lou Artman with friend and fellow Ridgewood resident Adele Lehosky

Upon her retirement in 1989, the Artman Elementary School was named in her honor, and she and her friends established the Betty Lou Artman Hermitage Education Foundation, which continues to support students in Hermitage through scholarships.

After retirement, B. Lou devoted more time to volunteering at St. Paul’s by joining the board of directors, serving for almost 30 years. She was a Board Member Emerita at the time of her passing in 2018 and was living at The Ridgewood, where she’d moved in 2007 while recuperating from a car accident. She enjoyed the freedom she had at St. Paul’s as well as the many friendships she made here.

“Because of my long-standing relationship, and as a humanitarian, it seemed logical that I should include St. Paul’s in my estate planning,” said B. Lou when talking about her gift. “I hope that my gift will be able to help our future residents and ensure that we always provide the best possible care.”

B. Lou chose to make her planned gift by naming St. Paul’s as the beneficiary of a life insurance policy.

Ways to Give

If St. Paul’s has transformed your life or the life of a loved one, please consider giving back. Here are a few of the ways you can give:

Outright Gifts
You can make an outright gift of cash or check.

Credit Card Donations
If you would like to make a donation via credit card, you can do so quickly and securely on St. Paul’s website at www.stpauls1867.org. Visa, Mastercard, Discover and American Express are accepted.

Recurring Monthly Gifts
Some individuals like to spread out their annual contribution on a monthly basis. A popular way to do this is to set up your bank account to automatically send a gift to St. Paul’s each month.

Gifts of Securities
Appreciated stocks or bonds may be gifted. By transferring securities to St. Paul’s, you will not owe capital gains taxes.

IRA Charitable Rollover
Once you reach the age of 70 1/2, you have to take out a required minimum distribution from your IRA each year. If you don’t need the money for personal use and don’t want it to increase your taxable income, you can choose to direct it to St. Paul’s instead.

PLANNED GIVING
A charitable donation that is made through an estate plan is called a planned gift. This enables philanthropic individuals to make larger gifts than they could make from their income alone.

Bequests
You can make provisions in your will to donate a certain dollar amount or percentage of your estate to St. Paul’s. These gifts are free from federal estate tax and estate and inheritance taxes in most states.

Charitable Gift Annuity
Your tax-deductible gift will be used to fund an annuity that will guarantee you lifetime income.

Gifts of Life Insurance
You can assign St. Paul’s as a beneficiary of your life insurance policy. When you do this, the cash value of the policy and premiums may be deducted on your taxes.

Gifts of Retirement Funds
You could name St. Paul’s as the beneficiary of your retirement account. This will save your heirs from owing income or estate taxes on these funds.
Two Hands

Evangelist Billy Graham once said, “God has given us two hands, one to receive with and the other to give with.” Just as Colony residents John and Dorothy Rust (top photo) have received God’s blessings throughout their lives, they have also passed those blessings on to others.

“We were both raised in Christian homes, regularly attending Sunday school and church,” said John. “Growing up in such an environment, we became aware of the importance of charity as taught in the Bible, early in our lives.”

John owned an excavating business for most of their married life and Dorothy was a schoolteacher for 30 years.

Throughout the years they’ve supported a number of Christian ministries, as well as organizations involved in cancer research. Since moving to The Colony in 2004, they’ve also supported the mission of St. Paul’s.

In 2012, they made a generous gift resulting in the creation of Rust Colony Square and a few years later the beautiful Rust Colony Pavilion.

In 2018, the Rusts added to their legacy at St. Paul’s by setting up a charitable gift annuity. To them it offered the best of both worlds. “At the same time that it’s supplementing our income on a regular basis, we also have the opportunity to help St. Paul’s, an organization that helps others so much,” said Dorothy.

Just as the Rusts were setting up their charitable gift annuity, St. Paul’s received the remaining balance of the Harrisons’ annuities from the Keeping the Promise Fund, which helps residents who run out of financial resources. Down the road, that is where John and Dorothy want their gift to go as well.

They had known of each other for years before igniting a friendship. Helen’s parents went to Dorothy’s church, and she recalls seeing Gordon and Helen visit.

Donors Transforming Life at St. Paul’s

Years later, the Rusts traded in a car at the dealership in Sharon where Gordon worked, which he ended up buying. After stopping for lunch one Sunday after church, the Rusts spotted their old car in the parking lot of the Arby’s in Greenville. That sparked a conversation which grew into a long friendship.

John and Helen moved to The Colony in the mid 1990’s. Dorothy recalls visiting them in their home on Collins Drive several times before they decided to make the move to St. Paul’s themselves. “They were always telling us ‘Move now while you can enjoy it!’ Too many people wait until they are too old,” said Dorothy.

The four friends enjoyed their time together at St. Paul’s and separately made plans to leave legacy gifts. Gordon was working as an insurance agent when he first learned about charitable gift annuities. Like the Rusts, they liked the benefit of a guaranteed income for life, while also supporting St. Paul’s mission into the future.

After their passing, the remaining balance of the Harrisons’ annuities went to the Keeping the Promise Fund, which helps residents who run out of financial resources. Down the road, that is where John and Dorothy want their gift to go as well.

St. Paul’s is so grateful to friends like the Rusts and the Harrisons, who love their lives at St. Paul’s and choose to give back to help others less fortunate.

If you’d like to learn more about charitable gift annuities, please contact Dawn Hartman, Director of Planned and Major Giving, at 724-588-7610 ext. 1214 or dhartman@sp1867.org.

Jones Serenity Lane

In 2018, renovations were completed on the fourth floor of The Heritage, and the new memory care neighborhood Jones Serenity Lane opened in September. The entire fourth floor at The Heritage is now devoted to specialized care for individuals with dementia or related conditions, bringing the total private suites to 49. Jones Serenity Lane was made possible through a generous gift from Dick and Patti Jones of St. Marys, Pa.

Raise the Roof

The porticos were completed outside of The Heritage, The Ridgewood and The Villas – the culmination of the $500,000 Raise the Roof campaign. Almost 100 major gift donors, residents, staff and legislators gathered to celebrate the ribbon-cutting on September 11, 2018 (photo at right).

Life Enrichment

The pictures below show just a few of the amazing things the residents did in 2018 thanks to generous gifts for the Eden Alternative or life enrichment.

From left: (1) Professional Frank Sinatra impersonator Angelo Babarro was a hit with Jones Serenity Lane resident Evelyn Ramming. (2) Heritage resident Gail Peoples takes in the sights at Pymatuning Deer Park. (3) Residents enjoy old-fashioned horse and carriage rides at Christmastime. (4) Ridgewood resident Tom Leary and Without Walls employee Noreen Owen loved the train ride in Cuyahoga Valley.
With more than 200 volunteers bringing their talents, precious time and treasures to St. Paul’s, is it any wonder they transform the world for the residents and staff? Thank you so much to each of these dedicated and caring individuals who volunteer at St. Paul’s:

Faith Transforms

Romans 12:2 “And do not be conformed to this world, but BE TRANSFORMED by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect.”

Just as faith transforms the believer, St. Paul’s has been transformed through the support of the United Church of Christ and other local congregations. A heartfelt thank you to each of these churches and their members for their support through prayers, ministry, in-kind donations and monetary gifts:

Labor of Love

Since 2009, St. Mark’s United Church of Christ in Knox, Pa., has been making beautiful, fleece blankets as Christmas presents for new residents at St. Paul’s. In 2018, they delivered 145 blankets, bringing the grand total that their small group of volunteers has made for St. Paul’s over the years to 903! What a precious labor of love! Thank you to our dear friends at St. Mark’s UCC:
