As we all continue to enjoy this Holiday Season, we often reflect on this past year and all the wonderful blessings and opportunities God has bestowed on us here at St. Paul’s.

St. Paul’s has recognized and celebrated our 150th anniversary in many ways throughout the year. We have had the good fortune of being surrounded by orphanage alumni who have shared numerous stories about their lives growing up here and how St. Paul’s helped form their future, one in particular who grew up here, worked here and now lives here, others who grew up here and have now chosen to make St. Paul’s their home and many who continue to visit and share memories. We reflect on the organizations evolution from an orphanage to a first class senior living community. All while retaining the same vision and mission, one built on Love and the willingness to serve.

I’d like to thank all of the individuals and organizations, who have supported our mission in a variety of ways over this past year, especially our Auxiliary members who work throughout the year raising funds to enhance life at St. Paul’s. This past year, we introduced our “Raise the Roof” campaign designed to raise funds to support construction of porticos at the entrances of our three main buildings – The Villas, The Heritage and The Ridgewood. We are grateful for the selfless gifts given by so many to support this initiative that will impact the lives of residents for years to come.

We are thankful for the many successful events held this past year. Events like the 1st Annual Color Me Happy 5k an absolutely outstanding event bringing folks of all ages together to either walk and be colored or watch and throw color! I would be amiss if I didn’t recognize two team members who helped come up with the idea for this excellent event, Brittany Houk and Jesse Krafcheck, thank you for your creative thinking and willingness to share your ideas. Our Annual Car Cruise and BBQ was the largest ever with over 400 cruisers and a sell out on food. It was an absolutely gorgeous day at St. Paul’s with cruisers littered across the campus and residents, staff and visitors enjoying vehicles from all genres along with great food prepared by our fantastic dining services team. And let’s not forget Yeehaw Bob Jackson, a musical entertainer from Disney World who came to our campus and prepared by our fantastic dining services team. An Applefest held in October commemorated St. Paul’s 150th Anniversary. The apple orchards at St. Paul’s were a large part in its history. Testimonials were given and memories shared by Delores Jeffler, Children’s Home alumni and Laurie Baker, staff member of 41 years.

The history of St. Paul’s Children’s Home was presented by Lois Eastlick, resident of The Colony and daughter of Rev. Morris Cooper who was superintendent of The Home from 1945 - 1971. Rep. Mark Longietti and a representative from the office of Senator Michele Brooks presented citations commemorating our sesquicentennial.

A handmade quilt commemorating 150 years was presented to Chris Wright, president and CEO and Doug Anderson, executive director of St. Paul’s. Bryan Oros from St. Paul’s from 1978 to 2016 shared his thoughts on the development of the Senior Living Community through the years.

Following the program, guests were invited to take historical tours of the campus, enjoy delicious home-made apple desserts and browse through the historical photos and artifacts on display in the social room at The Keifer Building.

Special guests for the day included eleven members of St. Paul’s Children’s Home alumni, many who shared precious memories about their days at St. Paul’s.

In April, St. Paul’s kicked off the “Raise the Roof” campaign to raise $500,000 to construct porticos at the main entrances of The Villas, The Heritage and The Ridgewood.

On a daily basis, around 200 people come in and out. Frail residents who need transported to doctor’s appointments. Volunteers donating their time and talents. Residents going out to lunch with friends. Grandchildren visiting a cherished grandmother. A daughter checking on her dad who just moved in. They come and go at all times of the day and in all weather.

According to our local climate data for Greenville, we receive on average nearly 40 inches of rainfall each year and have 150 days with precipitation. That is a significant amount of inclement weather.

With the new porticos, residents, staff, volunteers and visitors will be able to enter and exit our buildings more safely and dryly.

In just seven months, staff, board members, family members, residents, volunteers and other friends helped raise the $500,000 goal! The architects and engineers are finalizing the building plans and construction timeline now.

On behalf of all the residents and staff who call St. Paul’s home, thank you, thank you. THANK YOU to everyone who donated!

St. Paul’s will continue to accept donations for Raise the Roof for the next few months as the actual cost of the project is expected to exceed the original goal of $500,000. If you would still like to give, please contact the Charitable Giving Office at 724-588-7610.

"My relationship with St. Paul’s goes back about 60 years. My grandmother was the seamstress when St Paul’s was an orphanage. I’ve had several relatives who were residents. Last fall when it became obvious that Mom needed assistance, there was only one choice. The care received is excellent. It is obvious from the faces and attitudes of all employees that they care about the residents. It is a relief to my brother and me to know that Mom is at St Paul’s and that she is happy, well cared for and looks forward to the next day and the activities that are scheduled.

I think the construction of porticos is a needed and worthwhile project. Porticos will provide protection from inclement weather for all visitors and residents. In addition to protection from rain, they will allow for better footing during snow and icy conditions."

In this campaign, 38% of the goal was raised from family members, 15% from colony residents, 12% from employees, 11% from board members, 10% from businesses, 10% from foundations, 3% from individuals, and 1% from other residents.

The staff at St. Paul’s are very supportive of the Raise the Roof campaign, donating almost $50,000 to the effort.
Without Walls Celebrates Five Years

St. Paul’s Without Walls celebrated its fifth anniversary in 2017. This division has become an integral part of St. Paul’s continuing care. Without Walls is designed to help older adults age in their own homes.

Services provided include assistance with activities of daily living such as dressing, grooming and mobility; companion services including housekeeping, laundry, errands, transportation, and shopping; private duty nursing services; On The Go Dining meal delivery services; and Philips senior living products including Lifeline and Personal Medication Dispensers.

Congratulations to the administration and staff of Without Walls for their commitment and dedication in the establishment and growth of this invaluable service!

Annual Auxiliary Gift Presented

This year, The Auxiliary of St. Paul’s held its 44th annual meeting. The Auxiliary presented a check for $20,000 to St. Paul’s CEO and President, Chris Wright. The donation will go towards funding the auxiliary’s current project: The Garden of Love Courtyard at Jones Serenity Circle—the special care and secured neighborhood at St. Paul’s for people with dementia. Throughout its existence, the Auxiliary has raised more than half a million dollars for initiatives that have enhanced resident life on St. Paul’s campus.

St. Paul’s Children’s Home - Butler, PA

Pictured are Without Walls companions and care partners during an anniversary celebration in November. Currently, Without Walls employs more than 90 individuals and serves nearly 200 clients.

The Pittsburgh Synod of the Reformed Church dedicated St. Paul Homes on December 10, 1867 in Butler, Pa., as a home to care for destitute orphaned children. The Home was moved to Greenville, Pa., on February 24, 1909.

Without Walls (WOW) employs more than 90 individuals during an anniversary celebration in November. Currently, Without Walls employs more than 90 individuals and serves nearly 200 clients.

The administration of the Dorseyville Home and St. Paul Homes was merged into a single corporate structure in 1955. The children’s home was closed in 1971 and total emphasis was placed on caring for the aging. In 1974 the Dorseyville unit was closed and its remaining residents were transferred to the newly expanded Health Center of St. Paul Homes.

Today St. Paul’s encompasses 650 acres of beautiful rolling farmland less than one mile from the Borough of Greenville. The Villas, a state-of-the-art facility that opened in April 2005, cares for 192 nursing residents offering nursing care and comprehensive rehabilitation. Located behind The Villas is The Ridgewood, an aging-in-place facility built in 1995 featuring 48 studio style apartments. The Ridgewood combines private living accommodations, independent living with services, and personal care services for those residents who need daily assistance.

The Colony, established during the 1970’s, provides an independent lifestyle in a neighborhood located on the north end of the campus including Estate homes, apartments and newly constructed Woodland homes. The Heritage opened July 2006 and is also an aging-in-place residence that features 80 studio style or one-bedroom apartments. The Heritage combines independent living with services and personal care services for individuals who some assistance with daily activities. In 2015, The Heritage added Jones Serenity Circle, a special care and secured neighborhood for individuals with dementia. It is home for 24 people.

In 2015, The Meadows neighborhood in The Villas transitioned to a short-stay neighborhood for 24 residents and provides rehabilitation and nursing care for individuals who will return to their homes.

In 2012, St. Paul’s reached out into the community by introducing its home and community based services – St. Paul’s Without Walls. Today, Without Walls (WOW) employs more than 100 staff members and cares for nearly 200 clients in the Greenville and Shenango Valley areas. Services include companion, care partner and private duty nursing as well as Philips Lifeline products and On-The-Go Dining services.

In 2009, St. Paul Homes began doing business as St. Paul’s – A Continuing Care Community. This name better represents the large community in which St. Paul’s has evolved. Today, the Reformed congregations in Western Pennsylvania. In 1939 the merger of the Evangelical and Reformed Churches brought the Dorseyville Home for the Aged into the Synod.

Without Walls celebrates its fifth anniversary in 2017. This division has become an integral part of St. Paul’s continuing care. Without Walls is designed to help older adults age in their own homes.

Health care services for the aging began in Greenville in 1927 at a leased house on Main Street. Later, two houses on Eagle Street were purchased for expanded care of the aging. The Greenville facilities were moved from the center of town to a site adjacent to the Children’s Home on September 7, 1946. This site was the 46-acre estate of Senator Frank Fay and was purchased through contributions from the estate of Senator Frank Fay and was purchased through contributions from the Reformed congregations in Western Pennsylvania.
In August, St. Paul's hosted the first “Color Me Happy 5K Race, Roll and Stroll” on campus. The event, which seems destined to be an annual occurrence, was a resounding success with more than 50 participants from our campus and community. Our residents had the most fun as they doused the runners and walkers (and each other!) with color all across campus.
Last year marked St. Paul’s sesquicentennial–150 years of Enriching Lives for Generations.

As we begin 2018, we celebrate the traditions that started a century and a half ago and still hold strong at our Senior Living Community today.

Happy New Year – and here’s to the next 150 years!
Aaron Listopad, D.O. Named Medical Director

After 42 years of running his own private family practice in West Middlesex, Pa., Dr. Aaron Listopad briefly considered semi-retirement. The consideration was brief, indeed, as he was simultaneously offered the position as Medical Director at St. Paul’s. His official start date at St. Paul’s was May 1 and his practice closed on September 1.

Born and raised in Hermitage, Pa., Listopad attended Hickory High School and is a 1970 graduate of Thiel College where he earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in biology. He recognizes the irony of his medical career beginning and coming to a close by driving North on PA State Route 18 to Greenville, Pa., “I lived at home when I went to college at Thiel and made that drive many, many times. The route looks a little different now but I think it’s funny that I’m making that same trip on a daily basis again after so many years.”

Following Thiel, Listopad attended the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine and graduated in 1974. He served as an intern at the Shenango Valley Osteopathic Hospital from 1974-75 and started his own practice in October 1975. When he began his career there were no residencies—“after a one-year internship, they turned you lose,” he said, “but the learning curve wasn’t nearly as steep then as it is now.”

In March 1982, Listopad became certified in family practice and began the Family Practice Residency Program at the Shenango Valley Osteopathic Hospital. He was director of the program from its inception until he recently resigned his practice. For 35 years the collaborative effort allowed the doctors-in-residence to work and train in his office. He is still involved with the program as a faculty member.

As Medical Director at St. Paul’s, Dr. Listopad’s primary focus is patient care for residents who need skilled nursing care at The Villas. He works closely with the nursing supervisors in all nine neighborhoods and states, simply, “I love it here! This is a very well-run operation—the staff here is spectacular. Their dedication and professionalism is unbelievable.” Quickly after coming on board, he noticed that, “there is an obvious philosophical approach to the care-giving that goes on here. It’s great—my passion is patient care and now—in this position—I can just come to work and take care of people!”

“My next big goal is getting to know all of the families. My forte had been caring for patients as they grew throughout their entire lives, now I’m meeting these residents at an older age and working backward.” In order to clearly understand the medical and personal histories of our residents, getting to know family members “can help me get a three hundred and sixty degree view of who I’m caring for.”

Dr. Listopad volunteers as the Medical Director at Joshua’s Haven in Sharon, Pa.—a spiritually-based men’s shelter that is answering a need in the community. He resides in Sharon with his wife, Paula, whom he met as a medical student. They have been married for 43 years and have three adult children.

St. Paul’s is home to nearly 500 people and it employs more than 500.

Since our inception, local area businessmen and women, and pastors have volunteered their time on our Board of Directors assisting with oversight of St. Paul’s business. And for many decades, thousands of thoughtful women and men have shared their time and talents through our volunteer program. Our facilities have been enhanced tremendously throughout our history thanks to our auxiliary having raised nearly half of a million dollars toward resident initiatives that have enhanced life on campus.

St. Paul’s values the human spirit and life at St. Paul’s is filled with choices, meaningful lifestyles, valued relationships, and much more.

The Apple Orchards back in the 1960’s

St. Paul’s Campus today
Since 2009, Pastor Nancy Dunmire and volunteers from St. Mark’s United Church of Christ in Knox, Pa. have been delivering hand-made blankets to the residents of St. Paul’s to be given as Christmas gifts. The group delivered 144 blankets on October 25.

Since the project’s inception in 2008, the group has donated more than 900 blankets to residents of St. Paul’s. Each blanket takes about 2 hours to make, measures 60” x 90” and is made from 5 yards of anti-pil, fire retardant winter fleece and tied with 450 knots. That is more than 1,800 man-hours, 4,500 yards of material at an average cost of $5.50/yard totaling nearly $25,000 and 407,000 knots!

Each blanket is complete with an embroidered tag that reads, “Made with Tender Loving Care by St. Mark’s UCC.”

What cannot be measured, however, is the amount of love and comfort these blankets bring to the residents. “When I think we are reminding people they are loved and we can wrap them in the warmth of God’s love with a simple blanket, we thank God for the opportunity to do this,” said Pastor Dunmire. “We feel very blessed. We are grateful to St. Paul’s for receiving the blankets, for letting us be part of their caring ministry.”

The volunteers sell blankets in local malls in their area throughout the year to raise funds that offset the cost of the fleece so that the blankets can be donated.
